SILLY PROPAGANDA

Some peculiar and altogether unconvincing propaganda is being put out these days in behalf of the liquor traffic.

One of the claims is that the return of bootleggers has lessened the number of drunk driving automobile fatalities. That assertion is so palpably false that it is the final word in absurdity.

SENSIBLE WARNING

Some time ago a distillery published an advertisement warning auto drivers not to get behind the wheels of a car if they had been drinking. That was sensible advice and should be heeded. It frankly advised that alcohol and auto driving was a bad combination and warned against it.

Automobile accidents in California exacted a toll of 2,805 lives in 1934 as against 2,366 in 1933, the last dry year, according to figures compiled by the State patrol—an increase in fatalities of 18.6 percent for the wet year.

Concluding a nation-wide analysis of different types of motor accidents, the National Safety Council of Chicago reports:

"The influence of alcohol on traffic accidents has increased threefold."

Officers Elected By Honor Post Of Foreign War Vets

Officers were elected last evening by Honor Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of the United States at a meeting held in the Memorial hall.

C. O. Davis, local postal employee, was elected commander for the year 1935-36. His successor, Clifford Hunt, was elected for the post for a year.

Other officers named during the evening were: P. P. Robinson, senior vice commander; Walter Zurlinden, junior vice commander; James McMurtrie, chaplain; R. L. Benton, quartermaster; J. J. Mullins, adjutant; Clifford Hunt, judge advocate; George Lumbach, board of directors; Robert Robbins, post surgeon; C. C. Kratzer, Sam Holmes, Roy Cooper, county council delegates; C. O. Davis, P. P. Robinson and W. Zurlinden, Allied Council delegates.

Other officers will be named at the installation, which will be held November 6.

Several coming events were planned at the season and reports were heard on the dedication ceremonies held at Alvarado Park last Sunday.

The affair was followed by a program by a male quartette and a "bean feed."

Seamen's Union Will Aid ILA In Gulf Port Strike

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 1.—The International Seamen's Union tonight joined dock workers here in a strike to force recognition of the ILA in four east Gulf ports.

While both sides in the labor strife claimed victory in a bitter battle fought last night, the ILA walked off the S. S. Katrina Luckenbach in protest against use of members of an independent stevedores' union in unloading the freighter.

Action of the seamen here was the first definite backing for ILA claims that it will receive general support in its strike.

While admitting it may not be able to halt loading of cargo at New Orleans, Gulfport, Pensacola and here, association leaders expect to have their lining when vessels loaded by non-association stevedores at strike points seek to unload on the Pacific or Atlantic seaboard.

LAVAL, WALES CONFER ON WAR CRISIS

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 2.—A majority of the members of the government, in informal talks in advance of today's cabinet meeting, were convinced that Mussolini will begin hostilities against Ethiopia "very soon," a source close to Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin told the United Press.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—UP—Chances are "three to one" that France will support a strong British stand against Italy, a British spokesman said tonight after important conferences among officials of the two countries, including the Prince of Wales.

Britain asked France: "Where will you stand if we get into a war with Italy?" The French cabinet will meet Friday to deliver a formal decision.

UNITY IS SEEN

The British and French approached complete unity of front in talks between Premier Pierre Laval and British Ambassador Sir George Clerk which were described as "vitally important."

The situation gained added significance through a dramatically timed visit from the Prince of Wales.

October Events Are Outlined At Meeting Of Elks

A calendar for October was outlined last evening when Richmond Lodge of Elks held its meeting at the clubrooms under the direction of Exalted Ruler Clifford C. Anglin.

Next Tuesday night will be firemen's night with Fire Chief W. P. Cooper as chairman of the evening. On October 15, football night will be enjoyed with Ruel S. Crose as chairman of the evening. Al Coster is chairman of the bass derby day which will be held on Sunday, October 20. On the following Tuesday night, Standard Oil night will be held. Al Coster will head the committee in charge of "Portuguese Night" on the evening of October 29.

A lodge barbecue was held by the venue last evening, with Mark Ljutic providing the venison. On the committee which prepared the feed were Dick Spierch, Dr. R. C. Louck, A. Castelle and Albert and Mark Ljutic.

It was announced that Edgar W. Dale, secretary of the local lodge, was named trustee of the California State Elks Association at the recent convention held at Santa Monica. Dale was named chairman of the board of directors. He has been an official of the State association for several years.

Besides Dale, those attending from Richmond were W. C. Walker, E. L. Kinnaman and Bruno Roveda.

Library Site Chosen For Federal Building

MARTINEZ, Oct. 1.—The treasury department at Washington today accepted the Court and Ward streets site of the Martinez Library association as the location of the new Martinez post office.

The government's acceptance of the property follows in the wake of an effort made yesterday to have the owners of the property reduce the price from $13,350 to $11,000. The association responded that price could not be cut since it is represented cost of the location.

Liquor Scandal Hits Colorado

SUSPECT IS WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE

COLFAX, Oct. 1.—UP—John C. Weaver, 50, accused of killing one man and wounding another in a miners' claim feud, was captured by a posse today.

He was found wounded and near delirium on the bank of the American river, not 100 yards from where the posse had camped, awaiting daylight to continue its search.

CLAIM DISPUTED

The shooting for which Weaver was sought occurred yesterday during a claim dispute.

Barry Kesterson, 22, George Fischer, 40, and Andy Finnemore went to Weaver's tent to discuss the claim.

Weaver suddenly appeared in the entrance to the tent and began shooting. Finnemore said.

Kesterson was killed and Fischer hit in the thigh. Weaver fled in a hall of shotgun blasts from Finnemore.

FEAR TRAP

Constable Tom Stanley and the posse camped last night in fear they might encounter a dynamite trap, two of which have been set along Iowa hill trails. Weaver was accused of planting the traps.

A call for medical assistance was sent to Colfax with the finding of Weaver today. Meanwhile the possemen prepared to pack him up the steep three-mile mountain side.

Man Killed By "Rabbit" At Dog Track

One of the most unusual accidental deaths in police history was being investigated by the coroner's office yesterday.

Harry Riley, 23, 312 Oak street, El Cerrito, son of Assistant Fire Chief Thomas F. Riley, of El Cerrito, was almost instantly killed when he was struck on the back of the head by a mechanical rabbit at the El Cerrito dog track yesterday afternoon.

Riley, it was reported, had been working at the track and had entered the ditch under the rabbit, which the rabbit travels. He was not seen by electricians who were working on the mechanical rabbit.

Colonists Are Preparing For Winter Season

PALMER, Alaska, Oct. 1.—With all colonists assured of adequate shelters for the imminent winter, Matanuska Valley women rushed construction of livestock today.

Nearly all the remaining families of ex-midwesterners are now in their new homes.

The barns must be water-tight, those generally necessary in the states, Don L. Irwin, superintendent of the agricultural experiment station and general manager of the colony, supervised the work.

There was a variety of stock to shelter. Thirty-two Jersey sows and four boars, shipped here in early summer from the Washington State humane asylum farm, all the sows have farrowed, from six to eight piglets each.

Man, Wife Will Face Trial On Fraud Charges

MODESTO, Oct. 1.—UP—Superior Judge J. L. Maddux today had set the trial of A. E. Murphy, Downville mining man, and his wife, Mrs. Leonora Rousseau Murphy, for October 19.

The two face felony charges in connection with the asserted sale of bogus mining stock. They are accused of mulcting Turlock and Patterson investors of more than $30,000.

Mrs. Murphy is a former recorder of Stanislaus county.

Sides With League

Teachers Hear Address On New Laws For Schools

The Richmond Teachers Association held its first meeting yesterday afternoon. A large number attended.

C. V. Howell reported on his trip to Denver and the NEA convention. The report proved most interesting.

The day session held a bid for the convention in 1937. Sixteen thousand people attend yearly. The California delegation used the bay bridge as the motif for the entertainment each group presented during the convention.

Boyd Cloud, principal speaker of the day gave a brief survey of legislation pertaining to education. Under the present law the teacher obtains tenure or civil service after three years of successful probationary teaching. The new law made one change. When a teacher reaches the age of 65 she is automatically dismissed and may be rehired from year to year at the will of the school board. Some changes were made in the retirement law to make it more sound, Cloud reported.

The key word of the first part of Cloud's talk was loyalty. He stressed the fact that all should be association-minded and give support to their various organizations.

Other committees for the affair will be named at a future date and a program will be announced.

The British consul at San Francisco will be an honored guest at the concert.

The British societies entertain each year at a concert and ball. It is expected that this year's affair will be one of the largest and most successful ever given.

Admiral F. D. R. To Direct War Fleet In Game

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 1.—UP—President Roosevelt will be "commander in chief" of the navy tomorrow in fact as well as title.

Immediately upon conclusion of his address in San Diego high school stadium, scheduled for 2 P. M., Mr. Roosevelt will go aboard the Navy cruiser Houston from which he will have the privilege of directing personally the fleet in battle maneuvers.

Navy officers here said they believed it was the first time in history a president had actually directed maneuvers from the bridge of his fighting ship.

GOVERNOR EDWIN C. JOHNSON broke the Colorado liquor cloud wide open today, threatening an immediate special session of the General Assembly to consider impeachment proceedings against Secretary of State James Carr, ex-archbishop of the state liquor department.

Failure of Carr to reply within a period of 48 hours from 10 A. M. today "will force me to issue an immediate call for an extraordinary session of the legislature," Johnson asserted.

Porterville Youth

PORTERVILLE, Cal., Oct. 1.—UP—Mrs. Lily Smith today identified a photograph of the body of a youth believed to have been a second murder victim of Earl Kimball, "the werewolf of Folsom Flat" as that of her son Virgil, 16.

The boy has been missing from his home here since last spring. Kimball yesterday was sentenced to hang for the murder of James G. Kennett, Sr., retired Chicago contractor. A jury found him sane when he killed the elderly man and threw his body down an abandoned mine shaft.

The body tentatively identified as that of young Smith, was also found in an abandoned Placer county mine shaft.

El Cerrito firemen were called to Stockton and Kearney streets last evening to extinguish a fire that for a short time threatened the car of D. G. Nichols, 820 Everett street. Damage was very slight.

ROOSEVELT CHEERED AT LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—UP—More than a half million Californians poured out of homes and business offices today to tender President Roosevelt the most tumultuous reception he has been given since he entered the White House.

Jamming streets, windows, house tops and nearly filling the gigantic Memorial Coliseum, they roared acclaim to the President from the moment he stepped off his special train this morning until he returned at 1:45 to entrain for San Diego.

HUGE CROWD

They showered ticker tape and torn bits of paper upon him, barked his open automobile high with flowers and milled about in an eager attempt to shake his hand. Through it all he sat smiling, waving a gray fedora hat clutched tightly in his hand.

"Thank you, thank you," he called out time and again as the cheering populace broke through police lines to catch a close up to him. The big welcome, however, they staged at the coliseum, the city's stadium that accommodates 110,000 persons.

FAIR WEATHER

Police estimated from 60,000 to 70,000 in the stands when his automobile was driven slowly around the cinder track. The crowd rose as one and rent the air with applause as the car was piloted to a spot of the grass enclosure where he stopped and delivered a brief speech.

Bay Region Is Center Of Big Electric Storm

Heavy storms, accompanied by hail and lightning, struck Fresno and nearby towns Tuesday night causing considerable crop damage.

Grape, cotton, pear and fig growers reported heavy losses from the unreasonable disturbance.

"While the damage has been large, I do not believe great harm has been done, unless the storm continues tonight and tomorrow," John Quail, assistant farm advisor at Fresno said.

Electrical storms were reported in progress in many sections of the state.

Over Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, and Richmond the display of lightning was particularly noticeable.

Relief Denied 3500 In Fresno Labor Shortage

FRESNO, Oct. 1.—UP—Thirty-five hundred persons tonight were denied relief throughout the San Joaquin valley as farmers reported an alarming shortage of labor to conduct the cotton and fruit harvest.

All those denied relief were reported capable of working in the harvest.

The order cutting the employable relief cases off State and county rolls was issued to become effective immediately, Dr. Omar Mills of the State Relief Board said.

Dr. Mills said employment of the persons involved was certain within a few days.

The state will offer temporary assistance, including food and supplies to the affected until the relief rolls have been cleared up by the state placement bureau, it was said.

DETROIT OWES 1935 PENNANT TO COCHRANE

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—UP—The best investment ever made by Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit baseball club, was the reported $100,000 he paid Connie Mack for Gordon Stanley Cochrane in the latter part of 1933.

Mickey, the name by which Cochrane is better known, today proved Navin's judgment in both his playing and managerial ability by leading the Detroit Tigers to their second consecutive American League pennant.

In his two full seasons at the helm, the fiery Cochrane has inspired a group of youngsters—sprinkled with a few veterans—in the best balanced club in the league. Last year he brought Detroit a pennant for the first time in 25 years when at the beginning of the season his club wasn't even conceded a first division berth.

SEASON DOPE UPSET
That many observers and writers believed Detroit's '34 campaign was a fluke was evidenced by the consistent picking of Cleveland, New York and Boston to end this season above the Tigers.

But Cochrane, friendly and retiring off the field, didn't argue. He was working. And when at the beginning of the season it began to look like the dopers were just about right, he kept on working, shifting positions, benching players, and never met hitting and relegating former starting hurlers to relief work.

Victory is a serious business with Cochrane, who celebrated his 32nd birthday last April. He wants to win, and there is no alibi for defeat. High-strung and a bundle of nerves when losing, Cochrane is calm and affable when his team wins a winning stride. It is said that he rarely eats after Detroit has lost a ball game. He goes back over that game, play by play, picking out the places where the team played bad, and sometimes broods over them all night.

CHIEF HOBBY IS MUSIC
Outside of baseball—what to him is a business—Cochrane's chief hobby is music. He likes jazz bands and his favorite instrument is the saxophone. He can play one expertly, and his favorites are the hot blue tunes. Aviation fascinates him and clothes are a passion. He always is dressed in the latest fashion. His reading tastes run to mystery novels.

That owner Navin thinks he got his $100,000 worth is evidenced by the $10,000 check he presented Cochrane at the end of the 1934 season.

WORLD SERIES WILL OPEN IN DETROIT TODAY

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—UP—The world series game will be renewed tomorrow with the Chicago Cubs, the National League team of destiny, pitted against the Detroit Tigers, twice American League champions in one of the oldest dramas of the sport cycle—youth vs. experience, flaming enthusiasm arrayed against seasoned skill.

The gamblers are betting 7-5 that the grizzled campaigners, Mickey Cochrane's Tigers, will take down baseball's richest reward.

The experts are saying that the "flaming youth gang," Charlie Grimm's amazing Cubs, may scatter baseball's hope to the four winds if they still possess that momentum which sent them racing down the September stretch to the National League pennant.

That is the lure which will draw nearly 50,000 persons into Navin field for the annual Fall classic. Fully 25,000 persons would gladly pay the $5.50 for reserved seats if there was a base

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—UP—The local Jayvees will come here, with one of the strongest squads in its history.

On that day the Berkeley high school junior varsity will come here, with one of the strongest squads in its history.

For the past 11 years the Berkeley teams have been mopping up on all opposition. They have never lost a game in those 11 years and they expect to make 1935 another record season.

Last week the Berkeley boys were held to a scoreless tie by the Albany high school team. This was the sixth time in the 11 years that the squad has been tied.

The Richmond team has won one game and has tied another, defeating Crockett and tying Alhambra.

A five-class program has been arranged for Friday night's show by the Richmond Athletic Club, according to announcement made yesterday by John Tault, the manager.

Roy Hasberg, the boy who dropped Frank Richardson twice in the main event of last week's show, will take on tougher competition when he faces Mo Hammons, who gave the fans a good exhibition with Roy Waddell.

The next event will be between Jack Howard of Hollywood and Buster Ryan of Richmond. These boys are both well known and their bout will be a "grudge fight."

In the wrestling event, Harry Harris, radio announcer, will feature the entertainment.

There will be six or more boxing and wrestling exhibitions, it was announced.

with the junior team each day and he has high hopes of seeing his young charges win another victory, and to smash Berkeley's record.

The game will be played at 3:30 at the local turf. Another game will be played Friday afternoon at the same time with the regular team taking on Alhambra from Martinez.

Oregon State's AAA Codes Held Unconstitutional

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 1.—UP—The State Supreme Court today declared Oregon's two year old agricultural adjustment act unconstitutional.

The decision declared illegal 11 codes and marketing agreements set up under the act. The court ruled that the 1933 legislature exceeded its authority in passing the State AAA, whose sole purpose was to raise the price of agricultural products of this State and obviously to restrict the amount which could be produced or sold.

The court cited the United States Supreme Court ruling, the Washington State Supreme Court's ruling against the AAA in that State, and a ruling of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals that the Federal AAA was unconstitutional.

Eruptions Of Hawaii Volcano Being Awaited

HILO, T. H., Oct. 1.—UP—A pent-up and long-overdue explosion of the volcano Kilauea was awaited tonight as minor earth shocks rumbled through the Island of Hawaii.

Tremors jarred the island all last night and much of today, but no damage was reported. The shocks approached intensity of a series that struck the island some months ago.

Eruption of Kilauea usually is preceded by such recurrent earthquakes. Kilauea has not been active for months, and observers have predicted that an outbreak of considerable intensity would take place shortly.

Jealous Suitor Kills Woman On Her Wedding Eve

EUREKA, Oct. 1.—UP—Mrs. June Cook, 39, waitress, was shot to death early today, police reported, by Joseph Roberts, 40, a truck driver, who then committed suicide.

Mrs. Cook was to have married Joseph Budd of Eureka today or tomorrow. Police believe Roberts killed the woman and himself when he learned of the wedding plan. The shooting occurred in the restaurant where the woman was employed.

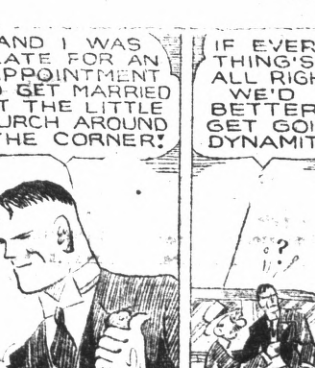

Mrs. Cook leaves a four year old daughter, Roberts was married and the father of three children. He was seen frequently with Mrs. Cook.

The slain woman had been married twice, first to a man named Bassett and then to Charles Cook of Humboldt county.

ARE ELATED
Mr. Roosevelt and his party were 40 minutes late reaching the big stadium, due to the crowds that filled all of the downtown streets to capacity and which strung itself out for several miles to the gates of the stadium itself.

The reception brought exclamations of elation from White House attaches who regarded it as an expression of California political temper, indicative of undiminished Roosevelt popularity.

"BETTER TIMES"
To them also, it was the grand finale to a reception that began to make themselves felt as soon as the President headed into the country west of the Mississippi where advisers claim his recovery policies, dealing with agriculture, cattle and mining are beginning to show definite and favorable economic results.

To the Californians gathered in the Coliseum, Mr. Roosevelt repeated what on the long journey to the coast he had told others who welcomed him along the route and that was things were getting better.

GREETED AT SAN DIEGO
SAN DIEGO, Oct. 1.—UP—Approximately 5,000 persons gave President Roosevelt a tumultuous welcome tonight as he arrived here at 7:50 P. M. aboard the presidential special train from Los Angeles. No public appearances are scheduled for the chief executive until he visits the exposition at noon tomorrow. Immediately afterwards he will go to the San Diego high school stadium for the first major address of his western tour.

LIONS FURNISH OWN PROGRAM AT DINNER

When the speaker of the evening falls to arrive, the El Cerrito Lions' club staged its own show and has a royal good time on the Monday evening dinner.

Jack Pryor was chairman and called upon every man present to contribute to the program. Russell Whiting gave a reading from one of the Shakespeare plays and proved that Russell knows his Shakespeare and how to read him. M. T. Ralston also treated the members to poetry, and very good poetry.

Forrest Wright, president of the club, and Louis Conrad sang a song.

H. M. Nissen told of his enjoyment of the club activities and other members entertained in other ways, every member contributing something.

Jack Pryor exhibited the glove Max Baer wore when defeated recently by Joe Louis.

The meeting was the fifth consecutive week with 100 percent attendance.

Next Monday evening, Russell Whiting will act as chairman.

HARDING P. T. A. PLANS FUTURE ACTIVITIES

There will be a meeting of the Harding P. T. A. on Tuesday, October 8 at 2:15 P. M. in the school auditorium, which old and new members and teachers are urged to attend.

A program will be given by Mrs. B. Nathan's room on the subject of parliamentary law. Refreshments will follow.

Seating will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. in the auditorium. Mrs. Olson will be in charge. Tea will be served lunch and the attending are asked to take their own sandwiches.

A membership campaign, to be concluded on October 15th has been started. All parents are urged to join as it is the desire to win the high record this year. Last year Harding secured second place. The dues are 50 cents a year, which includes membership in the national as well as the State organization.

POLITICAL DEER HUNT

Polish diplomats reportedly participated in the recent "political deer hunt" of Goering and Goebbels in East Prussia.

German political circles deeply resented the Russian-Czechoslovakian agreement allowing the Soviet advance to use airports in Czechoslovakia. The military agreement, to which the air agreement was appended, likewise stiffened the opposition of two other neighbors of Czechoslovakia—Hungary and Poland.

REVISION PROPOSED

Hungary traditionally is antagonistic to the Czech, leading power of the Little Entente, an alliance of postwar countries dedicated to maintaining a territorial status quo injurious to Hungary.

Proposed revision of the territorial clauses of the Versailles treaty, at the root of Hungarian opposition to Czechoslovakia, Poland and to her advance to cooperate with these nations, because they have not also to be anti-Russian. Defiance against the Soviets has been the keystone of Polish foreign policy since establishment of the Polish regime.

Traditional opposition to the Bolsheviks by the Fascist and some Fascist states is believed behind the proposed German-Polish-Hungarian agreement.

Unaware of the approaching danger, Riley was working in the ditch pulling weeds when he was struck on the back of the head by the truck supporting the rabbit. His head was crushed.

Slayer Of Wife Is Found Guilty By Hawaii Jury

HONOLULU, Oct. 1.—UP—William Corum, 27, former Honolulu policeman tonight faced the prospect of being the first white man to be hanged in the history of Hawaii when a jury convicted him of murdering his pretty wife, Marjorie, 27.

Mrs. Corum, a nurse, was found shot to death in her home July 2.

Corum was charged with shooting his wife through the heart in order to collect $3,000 insurance money. The prosecution further alleged the killing motivated by his infatuation for Katherine Lane, 19, former Los Angeles high school girl.

PICTURE ALIBI FOR MOONEY IS SHOWN HEARING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—UP—Three state photographs, three faded, after 19 years' preservation, were offered by a Superior court of California today as evidence in the case of Alvin Karpis, Edward G. Bremer, and George J. Zerk, charged with the 1934 kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer.

Maxwell, San Francisco attorney for Alvin Karpis, now a Senator, submitted the photographs to A. J. Shaw, judge of the State Supreme court, in a hearing on Mooney's appeal for a new trial.

PHOTOS SHOWN
It was at that time that a fatal confession from negative taken by Wade Hamilton had been exhibited.

The pictures showed Mooney and his co-defendant, watching the 1916 parade from a rooftop. Across the street from them was a large clock.

"I examined the contract print under a magnifying glass and found the clock hand pointed to 1:55 P. M. in one print, but in another, and 2:05 in the third," Judge McNutt said.

BLAME AT 2:06
The hearing, which took 10 days and ended in persons, was timed at 2:06 P. M. The building on which Mooney and his wife were shown was more than a mile away from the scene, making it physically impossible for Mooney to have been at the scene of the explosion if the clock times were as testified.

"There is no question about the time shown in the pictures," said Judge McNutt. "Theodore Kytkal, handwriting expert, verified the time under a microscope and also in other elements taken from the State files."

ALIBI IS HIT

State forces previously have attacked the clock alibi on the ground that the clock hands and face could not possibly have been distinguishable in the original prints. Judge McNutt insisted that the time shown was plain in the prints offered today, whereas prints obtained by State authorities were blurred.

Altogether it was an impressive day in court for silvery-haired Mooney and diminutive Billings. Prior to McNutt's testimony Edwin V. McKenzie, formerly attorney for Mrs. Mooney, and two other attorneys, including one, Edward Wolberg and Edward Nolan, gave strong support to the famous prisoner.

Trial Of Jesus Held Dangerous To World Jewry

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—UP—Prominent San Francisco clergyman regarded today the trial of Jesus Christ, promised by French churchmen, as "interesting, but possibly dangerous."

Termining the question of Christ's guilt "none of our business," Rabbi Elmer Bernstein of the Beth Israel congregation, charged that the suggestion by French church officials of the true circumstances surrounding the indictment of Jesus I. Pontius Pilate and the "Rabbit" would do more damage than good.

Such a retrial may prove dangerous, in that it would undoubtedly stir the inner life of many people," said Rabbi Bernstein. "I am definitely opposed to the plan."

Dr. Edward Parsons of the Episcopal church viewed the "trial" as "interesting," but could foresee no serious consequence of the episode, whether it be "guilty" or "not guilty."

Isms Banned At U.C. Senility Sentries Act Grid Secrets Hit

BERKELEY, Oct. 1.—UP—University of California students, long noted for their freedom of expression, today voted to ban all forms of "isms" from the campus. The vote was 100 to 0.

The "isms" included Communism, Socialism, Fascism, Nazism, and all other forms of "ism." The vote was taken at a meeting of the Student Body.

The "cabinet" or board of strategy, headed by prominent campus leaders, viewed with alarm the "insidious implications" of secret football practice. "We have definite evidence of an appalling Fascist plot to transform the football team into a military dictatorship on the campus. Secret football practice is only the beginning," thundered Trent Meredith, spokesman.

Announcing a liberal policy, Meredith said "everybody except Republicans, Democrats, Communists, Fascists and socialists will be admitted without examination."

Meredith filed a recent effort of the "parlor plan" National Student League to organize a campus boycott on Hearst newspapers and newsreels.

"In studying methods of publicizing ourselves, we have decided to ban all Hearst Metroton newsreels which do not show the sentries marching right abreast singing their battle song."

LOCAL CHEST DRIVE CLOSES; GOAL IS SHORT

The 1935 campaign of the Richmond Community Chest was officially closed yesterday with a grand total of $17,536. Considerable territory still remains to be covered, and while there will be no further report luncheons, the work of soliciting will continue, it was announced.

The total quota sought was $22,000, which was fixed as the minimum upon which the eight agencies could render the desired service to the city during the next year. It was felt that this total, while closely approximated before the campaign finally ends.

This year's budget represented a substantial increase over that of 1934, and the amount raised this year is certain to exceed that of 1934, it was felt. It was pointed out that in 1934 Richmond raised more money than in 1933, thereby becoming one of the few cities in the entire United States to show a gain.

W. P. Dumme, campaign chairman, declared that while it is impossible to reach the goal of $22,000, it is felt certain that a final total will not be less than $20,000, thereby restoring a substantial gain over the figures of the previous year.

C. K. Warren, campaign executive, thanked all those who had aided their time and expressed appreciation for the celebration of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been active from the beginning.

It was announced that the contribution of the Standard Oil Company is $12,000 and that the employees of that plant have given $18,000, making $6,000 from this company.

Charles A. Bullwinkel, manager of the Ford plant, said his factory has been practically shut down since November 1, at which time a strike was called and the Ford plant will be closed until the end of the year.

The Chest headquarters on M. Donald Avenue will be open every day longer, after which Chest workers are asked to report at the Chamber of Commerce.

Leo Marcello, attorney, was speaker of the day at the Chest luncheon.

Floods Often Are the Causes for Epidemics of Typhoid Fever

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

LATELY the newspapers have been carrying the news that typhoid fever is appearing in various parts of the country, especially in the regions that have experienced floods during the summer. The fall has always been the favorite time for typhoid to develop. Thirty years ago it was Enemy No. 1 of young adults all over the country, but thanks to our knowledge of its prevention, it has disappeared almost entirely in the large cities and only crops out in the smaller towns and country districts.

DR. CHRISMAN

It is a sneaky disease. The patient is well and knows of no reason to be sick, but slowly he becomes listless, has a vague headache and the appetite disappears. He has a vague pain in the back and limbs, the abdomen is tender and some diarrhea may occur. This condition drags on for a week or two.

Go to Bed

A little fever develops in the afternoon and the patient finally takes to his bed from sheer weakness. Each day the symptoms become a little worse, the fever rises higher, the abdomen becomes more distended and tender and the patient really seriously ill. Delirium develops and the battle is on.

If all goes well, the fever will begin to disappear at the end of the third or fourth week, the appetite returns and a slow convalescence begins. At the best, the patient is incapacitated for two or three months. During this time many complications can occur which either delay recovery or even prove fatal. Pneumonia, hemorrhage from the bowels, brain involvement may all add to the danger and disability.

The treatment is good nursing, watchful care, with prevention and treatment of constipation. No specific remedy has ever been found, though the use of typhoid vaccine has been recommended in some cases.

The typhoid bacillus or the bacillus of Eberth is the specific cause. It must enter the system through the mouth by contaminated food or drink. It appears in all discharges of the body, and if these are not sterilized or otherwise disposed of or destroyed, they will contaminate food and drinking water. Open springs, streams, and wells are the carriers.

Floods Are Often Cause

The fact that all these causes can be eliminated by proper care, puts a black mark on our local health authorities when the disease appears. Floods wash out all the old sources of pollution and spread them over vast areas. Very few cases appear in the large cities since they protect and treat the water supply and pasteurize all milk used.

The bacillus lives a long time; freezing does not injure it. The boiling of water kills the germ, and pasteurization of milk is the only safeguard.

One reason why all typhoid is not abolished is that many persons who have suffered from typhoid and recovered still carry the germ in their systems and some are always passing out to contaminate any food or drink with which they come in contact. If these persons are engaged in the handling of milk or the preparation of food, they are a serious menace.

Laboratory tests will discover a carrier and the use of vaccines and medication will often cure them. Anti-typhoid vaccination renders the great majority of people immune to typhoid, but nothing takes the place of hygienic measures in the disposal of human excretions, and the safeguarding of water and milk. Your summer camp may have sanitary plumbing, but no assurance of a clean water and milk supply.

Egg in Broth

If you have a finicky convalescent to feed, you can make his broth doubly nutritious, without his knowledge, simply by adding an egg. Do it this way: Beat an egg slightly and add it gradually to a cup of chicken broth. Cook one minute, stirring constantly. Then strain the soup into the cup and serve.

Profiles For Today

McAdoo a Political War Horse

By TULSOT LAKE

READING about William G. McAdoo's recent marriage to a twenty-six-year-old girl makes a fellow realize that the senator from California is a unique personage. McAdoo was born in 1893 at Marietta, Georgia, and grew up in the lee of the grand old man of the sea. That means he's in his seventy-second year, yet he continues prominent in public and law while actively engaged in a new home life. As a young man in Washington, he was a member of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

McAdoo has been busy during his span of three score and ten that it would be a task to tell about him. He early moved northward and was graduated from the University of Tennessee, and at the age of nineteen was appointed deputy clerk of the United States Circuit Court of Tennessee. In 1892 he went to New York to become a partner at law.

The first incident that brought him great fame was his idea to build a transportation system from New York to Jersey City under the Hudson River. After many misgivings on the part of engineers, the work was finally completed in seven years at a cost of $72,000,000. This called McAdoo a national fame.

National politics called him in 1912, when as a delegate to the Democratic national convention he was one of the first to propose Woodrow Wilson. After his inauguration in 1913, Wilson appointed McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury. Four years later when the government took over the railroads as a war measure, McAdoo took the added burden of running them.

McAdoo's name was brought up as a presidential candidate in the conventions of 1920 and 1924, the latter being the famous "split" between McAdoo and Al Smith, in which the deadlock brought the nomination of John W. Davis. After the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932, McAdoo, who had moved to California in 1922, ran for senator and was elected. The last marriage is his third.

MINK-TRIMMED

Copyright, 1935, by Fairchild.

The formal swaggar coat is presented in mink-trimmed version, double bands of fur making the double so it flares from the face. The fabric is one of the mink black wools that is important in higher priced coats this season, and the fur treatment is typical of the use of cuffs to complement small collars.

Flesh-Gaining Now Popular As Reducing

By JACQUELINE HUNT

THERE is always something youthful about this season. Perhaps it is the young people going back to school, with fashions and cosmetics all plucking their cheeks and waists. Women with hard school age, however, take a new zest in life and see to it that their figures are trim and youthful.

Take a critical look at yourself in a full-length mirror and see if your flesh is distributed as you want it to be. Then get to work with exercise and diet to gain weight where you need it and lose the excess pounds that mar your middle.

Flat chests and anoles are no longer fashionable, so weight-gaining is nearly as popular as reducing. New fall clothes are so soft clinging and revealing that soft curves are necessary to make you appear young and fashionable.

Here are some exercises that will give you a better figure:

1. Sit on the floor cross-legged. Raise the arms above the head, with the elbows well behind the ears. Lock your thumbs together. Then pull the arms up and force the arms as far up the chest as possible. Breathe the chest downward until the hands are level with the back of the head. You will feel the muscles of the neck and chest pull as your arms are forced back and down.

2. Cut-fashioned horizontal exercises are also good chest developers. Stretch your arms parallel in front of you at shoulder level, inhaling deeply as you bring your arms forward and exhaling as you swing them out to the sides as though you were swimming with a breast stroke. Repeat twenty times.

3. Stand with your feet wide apart and your arms at your sides, keeping the elbows straight, swing the arms up, as far backward as you can and down. Inhale deeply as you raise the arms and exhale as you bring them down toward the original position. Do this exercise slowly so the shoulder, chest and neck muscles are brought into play as you force the arms backward.

4. Stand in front of a chair or table, with your arms raised above your head. Lower your arms backward, at the same time bringing your arms out, back and down until your weight rests on the chair or table. This exercises the muscles of the chest and shoulders.

Rowing, either in a real boat or a rowing machine is an excellent exercise for the waistline and for developing the upper part of the body.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have gray-green eyes, brown hair, eyelashes and eyebrows, and a rather pale skin quite freckled. Because of the bone structure my eyelids protrude slightly instead of being set in. Will you please tell me what color eye shadow I should use and what color lipstick and rouge?" —C. W."

A gray powder or paste eye shadow will make your eyelids less prominent. Blend the shadow softly over the entire lid, a little heavier near your lashes, of course. A rouge and lipstick with russet or orange shades in them will be best since there are freckles. A cream tinted foundation lotion will make the freckles less noticeable.

QUESTION: "Do you think paste or powder rouge is best? I have always used the latter, but would like to try the paste. Will you tell me how to apply it?" —Puzzled."

Both paste and powder rouge deserve a place on your dressing table. However, the paste rouge is preferable for regular use, since it is less likely to clog the pores. Apply it after you have wiped away your soiling cream or after you have used a foundation preparation. Use a small amount at the cheekbone and from here blend it carefully into the skin outward slightly up and then down. Do not carry it too far up on the temple or too far down on the cheek or it will give your face a sad, sagging appearance. The color should fade away so there are no harsh edges. When you use powder rouge for hasty make-up or a retouch when your skin looks faded, be sure to use it after you have used foundation preparation and powder.

Woolen Evening Coats New Winners at Opening

By IRENE VAIL

New York—Appropriately what new, do not overlook the interesting possibility of the new vogue for woolen evening coats. Woolen evening coats, referred to as one of the surprise fashions of the season, have met with instant success. The revival of this fashion is linked to the 1930 influence when broadcloth and divinity were in their heyday.

Reasons why fall thick and fast with the best ones summed up in the military influence, and something of the 1930 element that can be traced in a great many fashions. The young ones may lean to the idea, "just because it is different," and it is thoroughly attention-getting, according to youthful lights, to throw a woolen cape reaching to the floor over a dress of sumptuous fabric. The idea is, can you remember, last year with Vionnet's much photographed cape.

Borders as trimming on dresses, as well as coats and suits, are confirmed in Paris fashions. They reflect a feeling for Russian or military ideas, the latter especially in Creed's hussar types with Persian lamb edges, or in Paquin's fur-trimmed dresses. Velvet borders on wool are just another expression of the fashion.

Manners Modes and

QUESTION: "If you were training a child would you insist on his saying 'yes, ma'am' and 'yes, sir' or would you be inclined to accept plain 'yes' or 'no' politely spoken?" —Mrs. J. H."

ANSWER: It is well nigh impossible to make one's voice sound polite when "yes" answer spoken in a monotone. It is better to accept a child's better form of "yes" as an answer, as for example: "Yes, ma'am" or "Yes, sir" are old-fashioned forms of address and considered to be somewhat formal and stilted in modern use.

QUESTION: "We are about to celebrate our tenth wedding anniversary. As there seems to be a difference of opinion in our family I am writing you to find out whether the tenth anniversary is the tin or the leather wedding."

ANSWER: The tenth anniversary is celebrated as the tin wedding. The leather wedding marks the twelfth year of marriage.

QUESTION: "When a head-and-butter plate is not provided in the service, where should the bread be placed?—Jan."

ANSWER: On the table.

Dishes for Today

Left-Overs Need Not Be Thrown Out

By JUDITH WILSON

WHETHER your menus are fairly elaborate or simple and sturdy there are bound to be times when you open your refrigerator door to see a discouraging array of left-overs. What can you do with a dish of sad-looking mashed or creamed potatoes, the end of a roast, a few stalks of celery, a half of a green pepper, a few baked beans? Throw them away and start over? What of the green vegetables, potatoes and meat that is left in sizeable quantities?

None of these odds and ends of food need be wasted. To eat them you would never guess that the menus above helped you clean out your refrigerator and empty the half-bottles and jars that had been standing for weeks on your pantry shelf.

DINNERS
Minted Grapefruit
 Curried Lamb with Steamed Rice
 Chutney Coconut Sautéed Nuts
 Banana Turnovers
 Coffee
Antipasto
 Noodle Soup Bread Sticks
 Veal Scallopini
 Mixed Green Salad
 Red Apples Gorgonzola
 Coffee

Curried Lamb
 Cook 1 cup washed white rice in boiling, salted water until tender, drain and keep hot. Meanwhile sauté 2 medium sized onions, sliced in 2 tablespoons butter until tender and yellow but not brown. Combine 1 cup hot water, 1 cup left-over gravy and add to the onions. Blend 1 to 2 tablespoons (depending on how hot you like your curry) curry powder with 2 tablespoons flour, moisten to a paste with cold water and add to sauce, stirring constantly until thickened. Add salt to taste, then add 3 cups diced lamb and heat thoroughly. Immediately before serving add a slightly beaten egg yolk to the meat mixture. Serve on a hot platter surrounded by a border of boiled rice. This will make 5 servings.

Pass a relish dish with shredded coconut, chutney or preserved fruit, freshly blanched almonds or sautéed peanuts, green tomato relish or chopped fried bacon with the curry.

Antipasto
 This is a good way to tie up odds and ends of fish, salad ingredients, olives and so on. Arrange a crisp leaf of lettuce or remain on each plate. On it put any combination of the following that is available: crisp celery hearts, pineapple, sardines, anchovies, scallops, capers, tiny pickled peppers, slices of tomatoes and cucumbers, slices of salmon, ripe or green olives, pickled beets. Pass olive oil and red wine vinegar if it is available.

Veal Scallopini
 Have your butcher cut 1 pound veal round steak or shoulder into thin slices and pound as thin as he can make them. Slice 1/2 pound mushrooms and sauté slowly in butter until tender (or use left-over cooled mushrooms). Dip each slice of veal into flour that has been salted and peppered and brown in a frying pan in olive oil. Add the cooked mushrooms, turn the heat very low and add 1/2 cup dry cooking wine. Simmer 2 or 3 minutes and serve sizzling hot.

Oatmeal
 Try serving oatmeal as it is served to fishermen in Nova Scotia. Native housewives prefer the real Scotch oatmeal that requires long cooking, but you may prefer the quick-cooking variety. Serve the cereal in flat bowls, dot liberally with sweet butter and sprinkle thickly with brown sugar.

THIS IS ONE TO TRY

FLUFFY APRICOT OMELET: Combine 2 tablespoons left-over cooking tapioca, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1/2 cup milk in the top of a double boiler. ## MODERN WOMEN

Mrs. Buck Accuses American Parents of Being Too Soft With Their Children

By MARIAN MAYN MARTIN

AMERICAN husbands are accused of being over-indulgent with their wives, and now American parents are accused of being too soft with their children.

Pearl Buck, who needs no introduction, has been deploring the fact that American fathers and mothers give their children no cause for complaint. She enlarged on this interesting theme in a recent magazine article. One wonders whether Mrs. Buck has been in close communion with the average American family. From all I can gather there is considerable lamenting being done by the younger generation.

Granting that parents often do reach for the moon to gratify their children's desire for it, it must also be admitted that in a great majority of families the youngsters know better than to make a demand for something not practical.

I am sure there are any number of reasonable young people who understand how impossible it is for their parents to shower worldly possessions on them or even give them every advantage.

I am also sure there are husbands who insist that the mother is not denied for the sake of her children and who become grumpy when daughters and sons make undue demands.

Should Not Be Deceived
 Mrs. Buck believes children should not be deceived about the family finances, or at least I rather that this is what she believes. If so, I am in perfect accord.

Parents who bring their children up in the understanding that they can have everything their little hearts long for, are doing them a great injustice, if such is the case. Even if it is, they should be warned that this delightful state of affairs is subject to change at a moment's notice.

Gambling on the future was never a more desperate gamble than in the autumn of 1935.

There are enough deceptions practiced on children, without accustoming them to standards of living that will be impossible to maintain.

Even if only half the stories of self-made men and women are true, they are enough to prove that a silver spoon in the mouth at birth is no guarantee of anything at all. If given a choice, I imagine any one would prefer to have his lean years over and done with and the good ones to look forward to. It's less loss of discontent to have been born poor and acquired riches than to have been born rich and become poor.

Teach Children Thrift
 Children should be taught thrift, if that can be managed without making them misers. There is nothing to be said against allowances if they are made to live within them. There isn't much point in being lenient.

It seems important to me that a sense of responsibility should be acquired with youth, since most of us sooner or later have responsibility thrust upon us.

I know the responsible souls set the worst of it and that the irresponsible lay their burdens on their shoulders. Nevertheless, almost anyone would rather have the respect that a responsible person commands than the lack of confidence that is the common lot of the shiftless.

I fancy that, in every age and clime, there are spoiled brats, and in every instance the parents are to blame. Curiously enough, these same brats have an amazing way of surprising us by standing up well under adversity.

The depression caused many a right-about-face in the spoiled child division of society. The upsets that occurred, forcing many selfish, unthinking youngsters out of the habits they had formed and turned them into men and women over night. It's not only the parent's fault, but the root and branch of the family tree that counts.

Short Cuts
 You can peel tomatoes without cutting half of them away and losing precious juice. Just pierce the tomato with a fork and hold it over a high flame, turning the tomato the while until the skin cracks. The skin will then pull off without any trouble.

Test for freshness of egg: If the egg sinks to the bottom when placed in a pan of cold water, it is fresh. An old egg will rise and float.

A question that often puzzles the housemaker is: "How far from the flames should steaks and chops be placed for broiling?" Most authorities agree that three inches is the best distance.

FLUFFY APRICOT OMELET: Combine 2 tablespoons left-over cooking tapioca, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1/2 cup milk in the top of a double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook with brisk heat. Add 1 table spoon butter and let it cool slightly while beating the yolk of 1 egg with salt. ## LAVAL, WALES CONFER ON WAR CRISIS

Wales, who gave a luncheon at the British Embassy for Laval, Minister of Marine Francois Petri and Generalissimo Maurice Gamelin.

ROYAL GESTURE

British authorities said the incident does not parallel the famous visit by King Edward VII to France from which developed the binding "entente cordiale" which resulted in British participation in the World War on the side of France.

Nevertheless, the royal gesture at a time when Britain is seeking close French collaboration to maintain the force of the League of Nations' covenant against the threat of Italian defiance cannot be discounted.

IN CONFERENCE

The British spokesman continued that Sir George actually had put the question to Laval as to what France would do if Britain got into war with Italy. The question is a logical sequel to France's recent inquiry seeking assurance that Britain would aid her against a German military threat in Europe. Britain replied that she favored sanctions (penalties) against any aggressor at any time.

After the luncheon with the Prince, Laval conferred with the Italian Ambassador.

Their Franco-British discussions were said to have dealt mainly with the British position in the Mediterranean in the event Italy construed British naval preparations there in anticipation of sanctions as an act of aggression and sought French aid.

MUSSOLINI TO SPEAK

ROME, Oct. 1.—UP—Premier Benito Mussolini will address the Italian people tomorrow.

The world—which will hear his words by short wave radio—looks to Il Duce for a definite pronouncement on whether his course will be toward war or peace.

There is little hope it will be the latter. He may seize this opportunity to call the best mobilization of Fascist forces to demonstrate Italian unity as he builds the nation into war.

The official government spokesman indicated tonight that Italy is becoming concerned at the progress of Ethiopian mobilization. He said the latest news to Rome confirmed earlier information that Ethiopia is mobilizing steadily, even though the general call to arms has not yet been sounded. Italy fears the black warriors may attack suddenly, the spokesman said.

menhously following the repeal of prohibition.

HURT OWN CAUSE

If anyone really believes that any kind of liquor, even that with the least alcoholic content is conducive to safe auto driving, he should have his head examined. The next move to acquire a three horse shoe, if such a thing is possible, is to contact any officer whose duties include the arrest of motorists for law violations, and listen to what he has to say. The facts he will hear, will or should give him pause.

If the liquor interests continue to send out such driven, maintaining there has been a decrease of drunken driving, it will be the best thing that ever happened to the prohibition advocate, and their cause.

Such palpably false stuff could not deceive a child and disgust even those who like their drink. When the revolt comes, as it is sure to, unless the liquor men mend their ways, it will be the drinkers who once again will put them out of business.

STATE BONDS COUNT ORDERED BY STATE AIDE

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—UP—A. E. Stockburger, State finance director, today ordered seizure of $112,000 worth of securities held by the State treasurer's office.

He said an immediate recount of the securities will be made. Included are negotiable bonds given to California banks to guarantee safety of State deposits in the banks.

The bonds usually are counted only once a year. Stockburger said today, however, that in view of the disappearance of William B. Shearer, treasury cashier, alleged to have embezzled $24,000 in State funds, he believed another count is advisable. The count will take approximately two months.

Police Captain Fritz Kaminsky said today he will seek to determine why State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson did not reveal for three days that Shearer and $24,000 were missing.

District Attorney Otis Babcock announced he will question Johnson tomorrow regarding alleged irregularities in his office during the last decade.

Babcock talked with Mrs. Shearer, wife of the missing cashier, at her Berkeley home yesterday. She reported a conversation with him, in which her husband told of losing a $630 State check through carelessness in 1925. Johnson made good the loss out of his own pocket, Mrs. Shearer said her husband told her.

Another deficit of $5,000 several months ago was also made good by Johnson, Mrs. Shearer quoted her husband as saying.

extraordinary session will have, but two matters on its calendar which it convenes, as soon as the legislature after issuance of the call.

IMPEACHMENT LEANED

"These matters will be the first and most important, impeachment proceedings against Secretary of State James Carr and, second, consideration of a complete revision of the state liquor code." Johnson's action, he said, was precipitated by the "defiant attitude" taken by James Carr and his attorney, Fred Dickerson with regard to the lengthy questionnaire sent the Secretary of State on September 21 by the governor.

Soon after receiving the questionnaire, which, under the Colorado constitution, he must answer in affidavit form, Carr announced that he would have to await completion of an audit now in progress in the liquor department to obtain necessary material to compile his answer.

WORDY BATTLE

Yesterday the governor, in a sharp letter, called upon Carr to answer "immediately" all but two of the 31 questions in the questionnaire, asserting that the answers to only those two could possibly depend upon the audit.

Carr replied even more sharply, advising the governor that he would answer "when all the information is available, and not sooner."

ONE ARRESTED

The liquor scandal which was brought to a head by the governor's action, broke two weeks ago today, when William E. O'Toole, brother of State Representative Frank O'Toole of Denver, was arrested by investigators for the district attorney's office here.

When arrested, O'Toole allegedly had just received $500 in marked money from L. A. Vorka, manager of McKee on Robins, Inc., wholesale drug firm here, for his services as "fixer" in settling a liquor tax claim of the State against the company.

SHOWERS AND STORM WILL CONTINUE HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—UP—A recurrence of the scattered showers and local thunderstorms that brought damage to various sections of the State early today, was anticipated by the Federal Weather Bureau tonight.

The bay region, which escaped the earlier storm, was regarded as likely to get rain and perhaps wind and lightning tonight. The 1935 fruit and cotton crops in the San Joaquin valley were considerably damaged by scattered showers early today, farmers reported.

A windstorm, accompanied by rain, struck Fresno at 3 A. M., blowing down trees. Greatest damage was done to the 1935 raisin crop, the rain coming in the middle of the drying season. Unless warm, dry sunshine follows the storms, it was feared part of the crop will be spoiled by mildew and mold.

Quality of the cotton crop may be lowered by rain splashing into the bolls. Watsonville reported a violent electrical storm near midnight. A two foot redwood tree was toppled by the storm, narrowly missing a house. Lightning burned out several radios, destroyed electric switches and burned out many telephone transformers.

Stockton experienced a freak weather demonstration late today when a vivid electrical display was staged in the eastern sky while the sun was shining brightly in the west.

Merchants Rush To Support Chest

The friendly contest to ascertain which of the business blocks of Richmond would be first to display Community Chest Honor Emblems, showing that all persons connected with the establishments had subscribed, has been won simultaneously by two blocks. The intention was to pay special tribute to one block, but those on Macdonald avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets came in at the same time, according to the official umpire, Chief of Police Jones.

So the Community Chest and the Chamber of Commerce make good on their pledge to set forth the names of these merchants in an advertisement, and at the same time both organizations express their appreciation of the spirit these merchants have shown by thus rushing to the support of the Chest campaign. The names follow:

Albert's, Inc.

The Kettle to You Candy Co.

Fox Theater
